

I was weird

My friends thought I was weird because I,
Didn't hit on chicks.

My friends thought I was weird because,
Strip clubs were boring.

My friends thought I was weird because,
I didn't like parties.

My friends that I was weird because;
I turned down sex.

They didn't believe me when I,
Told them that intercourse wasn't,
This pleasurable thing.

They would roll their eyes and,
Scold me for not being honest,
I was a guy.

I didn't fit into their,
Stereotypical world of,
Red-blooded American male.

My friends thought I was weird because,
I didn't like parties.

My friends thought I was weird because,
Strip clubs were boring.

My friends thought I was weird because,
I'd rather eat cake.
